WARD'S
Patent Grapple.
THIS GRAPPLE WAS INVENTED BY
Moses N. Ward,
OF BANGOR,
And was patented December 8th, 1868.
IN STRENGTH, SIMPLICITY, and FACILITY OF USE, it is far superior to any thing of the kind ever invented.
It is wonderful in its adaptation to every form of object to which it is sought to be applied, taking a certain hold of logs, barrels, boxes and bales, with equal readiness.
No Mill, no Vessel, no Store nor Store House should be without it.
It is indispensable to every ship builder, and every wharf builder. In fine, this Grapple is invaluable wherever there are heavy objects to be grappled, hoisted and moved.
All persons interested in the sale of the Grapple, are invited to call and examine the claim [illegible] at the store of the manufacturers,

Mr. Sumner's Speech in Europe.

NEW YORK, June 3.

The Washington [illegible] to the Times [illegible]:

An eminent American minister, writing [illegible] of European [illegible] May 11, says: "Mr. Sumner's speech [illegible] a tremendous [illegible] The effect was [illegible] per cent. in public [illegible] If President Grant sticks to the [illegible] of Mr. Sumner's speech, it is believed [illegible] the consequence [illegible] public opinion [illegible] with Mr. Sumner's views in the United States, and that while we [illegible] war, we feel that a series of wrongs has been perpetrated upon us that requires reparation. Mr. Sumner's calm, dispassionate array of facts and reasoning is turning public opinion in Europe on our side. The high toned spirit of this admirable speech will put all the world on their good behavior to us, as they will see that we do not suffer injustice with impunity, and that we will never let it pass by unnoticed.

The Ewing-Fuller Case.

NEW YORK, June 3.

The Tribune's Washington dispatch has the following—

The Perry-Fuller-Ewing suit has come to an end, and the public are disappointed. Judge Olin has dismissed the case, and ordered the money, about $84,000, to be deposited with a trustee for distribution. Since the arrival of the ex-Collector of New Orleans, Gen. Ewing has been very anxious to settle. At first Fuller could not be mollified, and threatened with great bitterness the exposure of the lobby influence, which recently controlled the Interior Department; but the result shows that Ewing has succeeded in his strategy. It is believed that the compromise itself will illustrate the character of the transactions on which the suit was based.

As an evidence of the dullness everywhere apparent here, it may be stated that the register of one of the four leading hotels in this city shows neither an arrival nor a departure today.

New England men engaged in the Departments are preparing to go to Boston during the Peace Jubilee, and for that purpose are taking advantage of their customary thirty days' leave of absence during the summer.

Railroad Matters.

BOSTON, June 3.

Bills have been reported in the House to loan the credit of the State to the Massachusetts Central Railroad Company to the amount of $3,000,000, and to the Boston, Hartford & Erie Railroad Company to the amount of $2,000,000. A bill to establish the Great Northern Railroad Company has been reported in the Senate.

Republican State Convention.

The citizens of Maine, who endorse the policy enunciated in the INAUGURAL ADDRESS of President Grant, and who are in favor of a judicious and economical administration of State and National affairs, are requested to send delegates to a Convention to be held in

NOROMBEGA HALL, - - BANGOR,
THURSDAY, JUNE 24th,

At 11 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Governor, and to transact such other business as may properly come before the Convention.

The basis of representation will be as follows:—Each city, town and plantation will be entitled to one delegate, and one additional delegate for every seventy-five votes cast for Joshua L. Chamberlain at the Gubernatorial election of 1868. A fraction of forty votes will be entitled to an additional delegate.

No person will be admitted as a delegate from any town outside of the County of which he is a resident.

The State Committee will be in session at the reception room of the Hall, from 9 o'clock until 11 A. M., for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates, and to hear and determine all cases of contested elections, subject to ratification by the Convention.

The Water Question Again.

We give this morning considerable space to another communication on the water question. We trust that both sides may be read carefully by the friends of the measure, and on the contrary we hope those who oppose it will not decline to investigate for themselves and read the arguments that appear to others to be conclusive in favor of supplying Bangor with pure water as proposed. We have stated the facts and probabilities of the case so fully heretofore, that the present communication requires but a passing notice. The writer seems to be laboring to make amends for the lack of material facts, by exciting the public prejudice through the ingenuity of a special plea. We deprecate this course and submit that a question involving so many interests should be presented more truly upon its merits. For instance, the writer insinuates that the Water Company propose for the city to give them $100,000 "to bring water from Hat Case Pond," which, plainly stated, is not the fact, the city is only asked to pay for the use of the water after it is brought in,—paying for nothing it does not receive. Other similar errors appear too glaring to need rehearsal, but which the reader will see for himself, through the shrewd specious arguments with which they are covered. The whole argument seems to be founded in the forced supposition that Bangor is called upon to bear the burden of this enterprise, and may be summarily disposed of, by the fact that the Company will build the works at their own risk, and the city is only asked to subscribe such an amount as it may reasonably afford to pay for what water it may use. If the water does not come in, the city pays nothing. The city takes no risk and shoulders no responsibility. It is asked to enter into a contract, with its own part of which it will only have to comply after its wants are supplied by the Water Company. If the facts can be more clearly stated, we shall be glad to to study them.

The Massachusetts Legislative Committee on Metropolitan Police held a final hearing Wednesday, and the majority voted to report a bill putting the control of the police of Boston into the hands of the Commissioners to be appointed by the Governor and Council. The other cities and towns in the State remain as heretofore.

We are indebted to W. Sprague's frank for somebody's speeches, in five volumes, all different colored pamphlets, delivered by Senator Sprague in the United States Senate. They will furnish our establishment with all that sort of reading it can afford during the heated term. Time is money, said Franklin.

The Democratic papers have been following the exploring propensities of a certain ancient philosopher, with the advantage over him that gas imparts beyond tallow candles, and having searched the country, have found two honest Democrats in the New York Legislature. We are not furnished with their names, for that would be drawing invidious comparisons, you know. Honest Democrats are usually apocryphal.

The Democratic organ in this city is rewriting Gibbon's History of the Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire, to enlighten modern Democracy as to its present duty. It has got so far as to dwell affectionately upon the deeds of the atrocious Emperor, Caligula, whom school boys recollect with horror; but somehow we do not recognize the splendid diction of the English author. The subject furnishes many lively suggestions of Democratic platforms.

That is a very cowardly attack upon the carriage manufacturers of the East in which the Portland Press insinuates that some rivals of Mr. Charles P. Kimball have put him forward for the Democratic nomination for Governor in order to shelve him. It is very singular The Press can't see any substance or sincerity in the "constitutional Democracy." No doubt its jealousy of the carriage makers of the East, and its anxiety for the welfare of Mr. Kimball, as a business man, inspires this canard to save its friend from total annihilation.

A disinterested man has at last been found who believes that women have rights which white men are bound to respect. He is Professor Willcox of Washington. We are not informed of what he is professor, or whether he really professes what he is, or is something more than he professes, which is very apt to be the case in this unassuming world, where each man loves his neighbor better than himself. But Professor Willcox is a woman's rights man—not that he loves Willcox less but the ladies more. He actually in cold blood went to the judges of election the other day and demanded that they should take his name from the list; if the women were not fit to vote, he wasn't, and he didn't wish to take any advantage of them. We have no right to deny Willcox's estimate of himself, and if he urged that he was born minus the usual clock-work by which the brain is propelled, we couldn't doubt the "soft impeachment." But if not consistent with himself, at least he is consistent with the average advocates of the flimsy movement-isms of the day, in that he won't eat anything because everybody can't gorge from the same porridge.

Governor Stearns, of New Hampshire, was inaugurated yesterday, and delivered his message. It exhibits a reduction of the State debt during the year of $450,000, leaving the entire indebtedness at the present time, $3,817,000.

To the Editor of the Daily Whig:

In the communication on the question of water supply in your paper of the 1st, the writer did not intend to convey the impression that he had examined minutely any figures regarding the amount of money to be saved to the city by reason of its bringing water from Hat Case Pond.

Indeed, when the article was written he had not read the report of the committee. The writer may, therefore, have labored to some disadvantage in [illegible] general principles to [illegible], carefully prepared by the [illegible] known ability composing the committee who prepared the report.

The thanks of the writer are due to you for giving the article so conspicuous a place in your columns, and for the fairness with which you always treat the [illegible] ments, relating to [illegible] interest, regardless of your private inclination.

The ground taken by the committee and yourselves is a most laudable one. Your desire to save the city [illegible] by the introduction of pure and wholesome water, whereby the health, cleanliness and general safety of the whole city will be increased, is most meritorious.

The only difference between us is whether this water project should be paid for by the city, and whether it is to be any expense to citizens who will receive no benefit from it, by reason of the city's doing it, or will it be a just and equitable transaction.

According to the law of Eminent Domain, "the property of one man may be taken for public purposes, he first having been paid a fair equivalent for the property," but this is a right that should be exercised with the greatest [illegible] and the policy of this law as well as the Constitution of our State, is that men shall not be deprived of their rights of property without adequate compensation. Should not this same principle be upheld by our City Government, and should they allow the property of any of its citizens to be taxed that they are to be properly benefitted thereby?

We propose to show in the course of argument that by taking the property of this community in aid of the proposed water supply, a great injustice will be done to many of our citizens.

While the figures of the committee may be right in some respects, they are right only as they may prove to be right. They depend upon contingencies, and the estimates are, if not wrong, uncertain and untrustworthy, and if true unjust and extravagant regarding what the city can afford.

The report says our citizens pay eighty thousand dollars a year for insurance; that the proposed water supply will reduce this to about twenty thousand, a saving on insurance of sixty thousand dollars.

This is most certainly a large sum to be saved by our citizens, and those citizens to whom that amount is to be saved can afford to subscribe liberally to the enterprise. This saving, however, is a contingent one, and the parties to be most benefitted thereby, if the report be correct, are among those who are opposed to the city's [illegible] the purse to aid it. They, as a general thing, prefer to exercise their discretion in regard to insuring, and do not [illegible] for saddling private enterprise on to the City Government.

If the figures are correct, the saving is made, if it is made at all, by a few people in the heart of the city, and not by many others who are taxed equally with them.

The large community of farmers living within the city limits, the [illegible] householders and small land owners outside the business centre, must pay the increased tax for the benefit of those who live in the crowded parts of the city. The report says that the city can afford to pay $4000 of this saving in insurance, and $5000 more for additional security to the city property, making $9000 that the city can afford to pay by reason of this saving of sixty thousand dollars on insurance.

Can the city afford it? Bangor is located on the banks of one of the finest rivers in New England. A splendid stream runs through its centre, and [illegible] streams run in different directions through the city limits. A city so advantageously located in regard to water privileges is seldom to be found throughout the whole breadth of the State. Now away off in the mountains of Dedham, on the other side of our noble river, ten miles from anywhere, is a little basin of rain water, drained from the hills which surround it, a mile long and perhaps half a mile wide; and it is proposed, in order to insure safety to our city, and health to our citizens, to ignore our river, our stream, our springs, in order to aid in establishing a communication with Hat Case Pond.

Will the City Council consider this item in the general estimate and consider whether the matter of $6500 cannot be struck from the committee's report?

The report says the city can afford to pay fifteen hundred dollars for sprinkling the streets. The city cannot afford it. The city has no right to afford it now; there are twenty other things that the city can afford as well, and still ought not to pay for at present. I contend that the city should not seek for new modes to spend the public money, but should endeavor to retrench in all things.

Let those who want the streets sprinkled pay for it, until the present liabilities are decreased.

The city has no right to tax our farmers, and small householders, directly paying three per cent on a two-thirds valuation of their property, for a luxury that so few are to enjoy.

In regard to the two thousand dollars mentioned in the report for public buildings, and sanitary purposes, it may be proper that a larger outlay should be made for water, in these buildings than has been heretofore made. The city buildings that most imperatively need the Hat Case water are the City Hall building and the Alms House. The supply heretofore furnished to the vagrants, paupers, and criminals, who are located there, having been insufficient for their health and cleanliness, it is thought by the committee that two thousand dollars per year should be expended for our cheapest article of consumption.

I think the City Council will ignore the insinuation of the committee, and strike that item out. $3,500 for insurance and general safety; $1500 for sprinkling streets; $2000 for city buildings—making in all, $10,000—should most certainly be struck from the report.

The other ten thousand should be paid, I suppose on account of the decreased expense occasioned to the city in the fire department.

Would it not be better to allow the stockholders, if there are any, to bring the water into the city, and then pay them liberally for it, if it will pay, and if it is found that it really will reduce the expense of the fire department? For my part I cannot believe that there will be for any length of time any diminution in this most necessary expense of the city. The greatest danger from fire is in the most crowded part of the city.

Every city is liable to great conflagrations. In regard to the advantages over our steamers of streams of water from hydrants I have no knowledge, but cities that have water works appear not to have given up the use of engines.

Another thing to be considered is that the water pipes will not in all probability extend through the whole city. Very few of our houses are built for this purpose, and it has been the experience of many of our citizens, who have water works in their houses, even where they have been well built and thoroughly heated with furnaces, that it is very difficult to keep the pipes from freezing and bursting.

The expense of introducing water works into houses must be great, certainly as that of introducing gas, and superior as that light is over all others, we see how few our people can afford to use it.

The number who would use water in this way is comparatively small, and they should not oblige others to pay for it.

Now for the purposes of safety the city, if it needs it, it and can no longer do without it, can get water nearer than Hat Case Pond, and at a less expense than one hundred thousand dollars, and without the possibility of eventually having to pay a million.

For drinking purposes those whose wells are not in good order, can have water, purer than that of Hat Case, by drinking cistern water filtered, at an expense of some ten dollars, a filter for which, price will last for years. The figures of the committee are such as can be made by any body with good talents for making the projects of speculators in a favorable light. The people of this community who have for so many years been fed [illegible] arithmetic, and who have seen the extraordinary forms that figures will often take, can ponder well over the arithmetic that can demonstrate that a supply of water can be brought to the city from this little pond, ten miles away, cheaper than a sufficient quantity can be brought from the nearer places mentioned.

I do not say that the idea now is that the city shall eventually pay for this enterprise, but the probability is, if one cent of it is granted in advance the whole, affair will finally be saddled on to it.

When once started it is difficult to tell where we shall stop. Necessity will beget necessity, and unjust, exorbitant and unequal taxation is the result of precedents like this.

A broad spirit of equality should characterize all the acts of the representatives of the people. The interests of those who cannot have the benefit of these improvements should be consulted; the farmer, the householder, all those whose business is not in the crowded portions of the city, should have their interests carefully attended to. Where the government of a community becomes the sport of cliques, unjust and unequal taxation must certainly follow.

Let the city be saved the expense at the present time to the last dollar. Looseness and extravagance in money matters tends to the ruin of communities as well as individuals. Let our city so economize in public matters that we shall be noted for the lightness and equality of our taxation.

In another place will be found an extract from the N. Y. Times, narrating a nice bit of history that Spain, during our civil war was on the point of declaring war against us, but was prevented by the interference of men who are now high in Spanish quarters. The names of these putative friends are not given, because, in the words of the Times, "in the present condition of Spanish politics, it would be highly imprudent to disclose" them, but we suspect the imprudence arises from there being no names to disclose. The Times is a fast friend of the Spanish authority in Cuba, and, desires to crush the rebellion there, hence, it puts all in the power of double loaded powder to crush out all prejudice in this country against the Spanish rulers.

Our outside dispatches furnish a review of the Alabama negotiations with England, which will be found of interest. It may fairly be inferred that the English people themselves will before long become satisfied that the United States Senate was justified in rejecting the Johnson treaty.

Dispatches from Halifax, N. B., say that in the Assembly Wednesday, Mr. Murray was absent, and his annexation resolution did not come up. It is thought likely he will withdraw it. R. G. Haliburton publishes a letter addressed to Hon. Joseph Howe, headed "Annexation or Starvation." This he believes to be the United States policy, which should be met by the imposition of a duty on coal.

SENTENCED FOR MURDER. The trial of Dennis Reen for the murder of his brother-in-law, Dennis Cronan, before the Supreme Court in Cambridge, Mass., resulted on Wednesday in a verdict of guilty, and the prisoner was sentenced to be hanged. Reen confessed the murder; says it originated from a quarrel, in which deceased gave him the lie, and affirmed to the Court that under like circumstances, he would do it again.

IMPORTANT IF TRUE. Rumor has it that Secretary Boutwell says he could fund the whole debt at 4 or 4½ per cent. within a reasonable time, if he had the authority. If he can, it would be worth an extra session of Congress to give him authority, says the Press.

Anna Dickinson is becoming confident. In her last lecture in New York she wanted to know what a certain paper "would say five years from now, when she would have a vote, or in ten years, when she would be a member of Congress?"

Nature the Great Physician.

This is now admitted, by the medical profession as a fundamental principle of healing science. It is wisely provided by the human economy, that whenever, any thing is wrong in the physical system the natural forces of the body are brought to bear to expel the disease. The great aim, therefore, is to strengthen the natural powers. This has been kept in view by the skillful compounders of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, which operates to give fresh vitality to all the organs of the body. The effect of this medicine upon the stomach the liver and the kidneys, is prompt and decisive. The patient, who is wise enough to quit drugging and try the BITTERS, soon feels as if he had taken a new lease of life, and as he continues the use of the article, he is overjoyed to find the stream of health coursing through his frame. It is prepared with great care, and its component parts are entirely vegetable. It is free from the objections so often urged against preparations of this kind. As a MEDICAL AGENT it has no equal, while its pleasing flavor and healthful effects have made it a general favorite. It is free from all properties calculated to impair the system, and its operations are at once mild, soothing and efficient. All who have used HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS attest its virtues.

"Even those, who are in the enjoyment of perfect health frequently have need to have recourse to tonics as preventitives of disease. We are never too well armed against the assaults of "the ills that flesh is heir to." In health for sickness this tonic cannot be taken regularly without giving vitality and strength to the system.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills, will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary consumption. [illegible]

TELEGRAPHIC TO THE Whig & Courier.

FROM WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, June 3.

Brev. Maj. Chas. O'Wood, recently sentenced to six months suspension for striking a brother officer in Alaska, has been reinstated in the service by order of the President.

A Cuban expedition left the Southern coast on the 29th of May. It numbered 475 men, who are a part of Gen. Jordan's command. All of them are ex-Federal and Confederate soldiers. [illegible]

From reliable information received by interested parties here, it is learned that the men and munitions of war have safely landed and joined the Cuban forces. The expedition was in charge of a Colonel of the Confederate army, Col. [illegible]

The $60,000, telegraph bill, against the Department of State, has been paid by this government through the Barings. Two-thirds of this sum was due on cable telegrams concerning the Alaska purchase. The correctness of the bill was disputed because the Company had charged as full, words single figures, only which had been substituted for letters in the State Department cipher.

The Indian Bureau has received no official information concerning the recent Indian disturbances, accounts of which have been published in the newspapers, and therefore thinks them exaggerated.

Progress of the Revolution in Cuba.

HAVANA, June 2, via Key West, June 3.

Gen. Pelaez, whose life was threatened by the volunteers, went to Cienfuegos, but the volunteers there refused to allow him to land. He was compelled to return to Havana. On his arrival here the volunteers demanded his life, because he had sold his country, asserting that he had received one hundred and twenty thousand dollars to allow some rebels to escape. Narciso [illegible] and Cosura, chief of administration, and Senor Diarr, Secretary of Capt. General Dulce, succeeded in compromising the affair with the volunteers and further outrages were prevented.

Yesterday evening, the volunteers greatly excited, assembled before the Capt General's Palace, and shouted, "Death to Dulce—death to Pelaez." This morning a commission from the volunteers went to the palace and demanded General Dulce's immediate resignation, declaring that he was allied with traitors. The resignation of the Captain General was soon after announced. No act of violence was committed. The volunteers now have full control and are really the governing power of the Island.

Several civil and military officers of high rank, accused of connivance with the rebels, are to be immediately relieved of their offices.

The insurgents in several recent encounters, have gained slight advantages over the troops.

The volunteers in Matanzas, following the example of those in Havana, assembled before the Government palace there and demanded the immediate resignation of the Governor of Matanzas. Their demand was acceded to and Col Leon is now acting as Governor. No outrages were committed and at last accounts order was maintained. The city of Havana remains exceedingly quiet, but the public anxiety is intense. A special steamer has been ordered to be in readiness to convey General Dulce to Spain, and it is expected he will depart within a day or two.

NEW YORK, June 3.

The Herald has the following special—

Havana, June 1st, via Key West, June 3.

The steamer Montezuma reports having sighted a schooner which had landed munitions of war on the island adjacent to the bay of Nipe, just as she was leaving.

A fight took place at Villa Clara between 1200 insurgents and a company of troops. A passenger who arrived here today, reports he saw 22 of the troop dead. The others were wounded or captured except 8

NEW YORK, June 3.

Special to The Herald—

HAVANA, June 2, via Key West June 3.

A revolution has broken out here, and volunteers have compelled General Dulce to surrender the Capt. Generalship to General Espinar until the arrival of General Rodas.

Gen. Pelaez is accused of receiving $70,000 from the insurgents. He started for Cienfuegos, but the volunteers there became riotous and would not permit him to land. He returned to Havana Monday, and the volunteers, advised of his arrival, surrounded the hotel with tin horns, and demanded his surrender. The proprietor of the hotel assured them he was not there, and allowed them to search the house. The crowd then went to the Government Palace and entered unopposed by the guards, and made the same demand of Gen. Dulce, but Dulce, indignant, told them to search elsewhere.

Yesterday the officers and men stationed here determined to demand the abdication of the Capt. Gen'l. The streets were filled with a riotous crowd during the night, and a mob, assembled at the Plaza de Armes, and shouted "Death to Dulce." At nine o'clock next morning Gen. Dulce surrendered the Gov. Generalship.

CABLE NEWS.

London, June 2. The Standard to-day in a leading editorial says it believes America does not wish for war. In the utter absence of any reasonable motive for war. Mr. Motley's assurances are well timed and appropriate.

The Standard is confident that as soon as the irritation caused by the too animated discussion of the question at issue subsides men on both sides of the Atlantic will be ready and eager to hold out their hands to each other.

Sir Stafford Northcote has nominated George Peabody, to be Treasurer of the Hudson Bay Co.

Favorable Cuba Report.

WASHINGTON, June 3.

Letters from Cuba, received here this morning by the Cuban sympathizers state that the forces under Gen. Jordan had succeeded in joining the Cuban forces after several fights, in all of which the Spaniards were repulsed with serious losses. It is stated that the losses of Jordan were slight—not over forty-five in killed and wounded, and that he saved his artillery, arms and amunition. He had with him 1700 rifles of the most approved pattern.

Further Details of the Horrible Outrages by Indians

LEAVENWORTH, June 3.

The Times has received the following particulars of the Indian massacre—

The tongues and hearts were cut out of the dead bodies. The calves of their legs were slit down and tied under their shoes. Pieces of flesh were cut from their backs, and pieces of telegraph wire stuck into the bodies. The ears were cut off and the hearts scalped. The Indians boiled the heads of their victims for medicine. The Swedish settlers, who were attacked all lived in one house. Only those were killed who left the house and attempted to reach a place of greater security. Those who remained in the house were not molested. This occurred in two instances. The calamity is mainly attributable to the lack of arms. Whenever a gun was fired the savages made no fight.

Doings of the New York Chamber of Commerce

NEW YORK, June 3.

The Chamber of Commerce met today, Hon. Geo. Opdyke in the chair. Gen. Hiram Walbridge submitted the following resolution—

Resolved, That the Chamber of Commerce of New York city heartily endorses the resolution of the committee of Ways and Means, which unanimously passed the House of Representatives of the United States on the [illegible] of March, 1869, recommending the President of the United States to renew negotiations with the government of Great Britain, and press them, if possible, to a definite conclusion for the arrangement of a reciprocity treaty with Canada, and securing to our citizens the freedom of the River St. Lawrence, and freedom of the inshore fisheries of the coast of British North America.

After a lengthy speech by Gen. Walbridge, this resolution was adopted, and it was voted that a copy of the document be transmitted to the [illegible].

The success of the expedition is attributed to sheer good luck, as the Perit is very slow and would have fallen an easy prey to any cruiser that attempted her capture. The Bay of Nipe which is a large, nearly land-locked body of water, was entered at noon of the 11th of May, and by 3 o'clock the next morning the debarkation had been completed. It is, perhaps, worthy of notice, that two of the New York papers have information that a large steamer joined the Perit, off the coast of Cuba and transferred her stores to the latter steamer. The World says that it was the Arago.

The ladies, who are engineering the suffrage movement in New York seem to be meditating a coup d'etat. They are getting up a monster petition which they intend to present to Congress at the next session with their own hands, and they say whatever the rules of the House are they must be set aside for this occasion."

The last New York Legislature passed one bill which can receive nothing but commendation. It gives $30,000 so soon as $30,000 can be raised by private subscription, with which a Seamen's Exchange and Reading Room are to be endowed and conducted, and efforts are now making to raise the necessary funds. It is proposed to have also a sailors' "intelligence office," where seamen can be procured, and where they may ship without the usual inhumanities which have for years disgraced the merchant service, and almost ruined the character of our sailors.

—The amount of gas consumed in Portland, which is a city of 33,000 inhabitants, is estimated to range from 310,000 feet in December to 70,000 feet in July.

LOCAL AND MAINE ITEMS.

—The funeral of the late Michael Sargent will take place from his late residence No. 15 Ohio street, at ten o'clock this forenoon. Friends are invited.

—The Eastern Insurance Company have hung their banner on the outer wall—a new and tasteful sign, which attracts much attention.

—We are indebted to a friend for copies of the Daily Inland Empire, a smart paper published in Hamilton City, White Pine County, Nevada. The latest date is Sunday, May 23d, and was only nine days on the route.

THE DAVENPORT BROTHERS gave one of their remarkable seances last evening at Norombega Hall. The audience was not so large as was anticipated from the widely spread reputation of the brothers, and the interest supposed to be felt in this community in exhibitions of this kind. The "manifestations" were, however, entirely satisfactory to those present, and whatever may be the producing cause, there is no mistake that the effects were truly wonderful. The brothers stepped inside the cabinet, the front of which was formed of three doors, and were securely—as it seemed—tied to their seats by George W. Snow Esq. and Dr. J. M. B. Sedell, a committee chosen for the purpose. After seeing that they were well secured the committee closed the doors, but before they had time to shut them together a hand was thrust out between them, and a brass trumpet thrown out, upon the floor, striking Mr. Snow upon the shoulder in full sight of the whole audience. The doors not having been entirely closed, were then reopened and a thorough examination made, revealing no change in the position of the Davenports or in the ropes by which they were fastened. Musical instruments were played upon, bells rung and thrown out of the aperture in the door, several hands—four at one time—were shown at the opening, the tying upon the tambourine continuing meanwhile. The doors being opened the brothers remained tied as usual. The doors were again closed when the music recommenced, and in two minutes and a half the doors opened and the Davenports stepped out untied. They then returned to the cabinet and in a short time the doors were opened and they were found to be tied more thoroughly than was done by the committee. A teaspoonful of flour was now placed in each hand of the brothers, so that they could not open their hands without spilling it. Hands were thrust out again as before, bells rung, the violin played, &c., and the doors being opened they stepped out, untied, and showed the flour still remaining in their hands, and threw it out in presence of the audience. None was spilled upon the floor or the cabinet or upon their clothes.

During the performances, at the request of Mr. Fay, the agent of the Davenports, F. M. Laughton, Esq., entered the cabinet and sat between the brothers, with a hand on each. The manifestations went on as before, and upon opening the doors the instruments were seen piled upon his back and in his lap. He states that they moved round and hit him, and that the Davenports did not move while he was in with them. After the close of the exhibition the Davenports gave a private dark seance, during which such manifestations occurred [illegible] at Mr. Read's exhibition. One of the Davenports and Mr. Fay were bound to their chairs and to a table, and the musical instruments were played upon and thrown around the room. Mr. Fay's coat was also taken off. J. T. Rawson, Esq., who, with Mr. Chas. E. Phillips, were acting as a committee, placed his coat upon the table, and the light being extinguished, requested that it be placed upon Mr. Fay. Mr. Fay called immediately for a light, and there was Mr. Rawson's coat on him—a snug fit, but still on him—and he remained tied as before. Phosphorus was rubbed upon the instrument, and the lights being turned off, they were heard and seen to pass all around the stage, and fifteen or twenty feet high in the air.

We do not undertake to say how these things were done. We merely state as a matter of fact that they were done. We merely state as a matter of fact that they were done, and will be done again to-night, and if any believe they can detect the manner in which it is accomplished, we would advise them to go to-night and see how they do it, and let us know.

CITY OF SALEM, Mass.,
Mayor's Office, June 1st, 1869.

To His Honor Mayor Thurston, Bangor, Maine:

Dear Sir—Your favor of the 28th ult is at hand. We have a head of water of 131 ft. and we have distributed throughout our city the Lowry Hydrant at an average distance of 300 feet apart, which is capable of throwing and does throw a stream—yes, six streams each of water, onto and over any of our buildings in any and every part of the city where they are placed. Heretofore we have had six hand engines and three steamers. We are now selling all our hand engines and one steamer, and probably could safely sell another steamer. Our department has all been reduced and we have hose companies of [illegible] men each. I send you herewith some of our public docs. which may aid you, including reports of Water Commissioners, and if in any other way I can be of service to you please command me.

Yours, W. COGSWELL, Mayor.

[If this is the result with a head of 134 feet, what may we expect with a head double that? The utility of the water works for fire purposes seems to be assured. Any parties may gain further information by little effort.]

SOLDIERS' CEMETERY. The Board of Trustees of the Soldiers' Cemetery, met in obedience to notice issued by the President of the Board, and held a meeting at the Aldermen's Room, yesterday afternoon. The Board was called to order by S. D. Thurston, pro tem.

Hon. Charles Stetson presented the following resolutions which were adopted—

Resolved, That it is due to the memory of our citizen soldiers and sailors who gave their lives for their country in the great rebellion, that their names should be added to the Roll of Honor on the Monument at Mt. Hope, and that an appeal be made to our liberal and patriotic citizens to accomplish the result. That from the best estimate at this time, the sum of from five hundred to six hundred dollars will be needed,—the names already on the monument having cost fifty cents per letter;

Resolved, That a subscription be forthwith opened for the purpose of procuring the necessary funds.

Resolved, That Deacon O. H. Ingalls, Lieut. H. H. Beal, Gen. Daniel White and Col. A. B. Farnham, be respectfully requested to solicit the necessary subscriptions.

Resolved, That the Executive Committee be charged with the completion of the lettering of the monument, whenever sufficient funds shall be raised for the purpose.

Resolved, That commander of Post No. 12, G. A. R., be requested to furnish to the Executive Committee, a list of all citizen soldiers and sailors whose names should be inscribed on the monument. Adjourned.

S. D. THURSTON, President.

Attest: Geo. W. Snow, Clerk.

—Henry B. Ward has been appointed Postmaster at Machiasport, and L. H. Littlefield at Oak Hill Station, in Cumberland County.

BREWER ITEMS. The Brewer Savings Bank (chartered by the last Legislature) was organized last Tuesday evening by the choice of the following men as officers for the ensuing year:

President—John Holyoke.

Trustees—John Holyoke, Elbridge G. Harlow, Francis C. Arey, William P. Burr, and Charles O. Farrington.

Treasurer—Wm. Morgan.

Voted, to proceed to business as soon as the necessary arrangements could be made for a safe deposit of valuables, &c., and the Treasurer was authorized to procure a chance for a box to be kept in one of the Bangor Bank vaults for that purpose.

The deposit book will be kept by the Treasurer at the Brewer Post Office for the present, and the public are invited to favor the corporation with its encouragement and business.

Dr. A. Bartlett is now selling out his stock of books and varieties at auction, afternoon and evening, at once a day.

S. H. Downs has built a new shop on the site of his old one burnt recently, and is now ready for work as before.

A. A. Holton (having bought out his partner, J. D. Carlton) is building a shop on Church street, near the Town Hall, to resume his former business of carriage-making.

The Insurance Company, are repairing the Patten building, according to their "policy," which will be occupied by E. G. Patten as a barber shop as soon as ready for a tenant.

At a regularly called Town Meeting last Thursday the town, after considerable discussion, voted to put a basement under the Town Hall and fit it up as a suitable place for an engine house; and it is expected that the committee will not "let the grass grow" over the spot before the thing is done.

—Mr. Owen P. A. Green, one of the Editors, work in the Bowdoin Bugle (June 1869,) which now for Bowdoin College. It is now published in pamphlet form, and is certainly a very neat and creditable document.

—Mr. W. C. Wilkinson, whom we do not happen to know, but who is doubtless well known, makes war upon the terpsichorean art in a little work entitled "The Dance of Modern Society," published by Oakley, Mason & Co., New York. The crowning conclusion of the author that he arrives from [illegible] is [illegible] that [illegible] cles are bad.

—Blackwood for May is just reprinted by the L. Scott Publishing Co., of New York. It contains: How Lord L[illegible] the King—A Year and a Day; Cornelius O'Dowd; Sir John Lawrence, part 2; Convent Life; Self Government in Ireland; the Progress of the Revolution. Blackwood is furnished at $4 00 per year.

—The Portland Argus announces with sorrow the death of Charles Wells, Esq., son of the late Gov. Wells, at the residence of his father-in-law, Hon. Bion Bradbury in Portland.

—The fine A No. 1 bark, "Naphtali," 933 tons old measurement, was launched from the yard of Dennis M. More, Esq., Bath, on Thursday, May 27th, owned by the builder and others, and to be commanded by Capt. A. P. Boyd.

—Hardy's Knox, owned by Liphaleт Hardy, Wilton, is one of the most promising horses in the State. He is three years old, weighs 1070 pounds, mottle fine grained, style stately, figured symmetrical and the whole make up impressing one as the embodiment of power and speed. Three of his colts have appeared and are fine ones. A hundred dollars was offered for one, before he was a day old, to be delivered in the fall. This one was a miniature of General Knox, even to the little star in the forehead and white spot between the nostrils, so says the Portland Argus.

—Mr. Charles B. Harrington of Bath, has about completed two fine yachts for Boston parties.

OUTRAGE. The Aroostook Pioneer says: "One day last week, a Mr. Sleeper, proprietor of the lower hotel in this village, was proceeding homeward, he was attacked by a man named Keefe, and severely beaten, his face being badly pounded, and some of his ribs broken. Keefe left immediately for the Province, having a team in readiness, for that purpose. Mr. Sleeper is still confined to his bed from the effects of his rough treatment."

—That big bear which has alarmed the people of Clifton and vicinity of late has at last been caught. He went last Saturday night to Amora entered the bee house of Mr. George Mace and took a hive. Returned the next night to get another, passed over a trap and took a hive. On his return stepped into the trap and was caught. "He was a tonser," says our correspondent who sends the above particulars.

—The project of improvements in Portland harbor are going on in earnest. Gen. Thorn of the U. S. Engineers, who is stationed in that city, has contracted with Messrs. Morris & Cummings of New York, for an excavation across the bar. The work is to be completed this season. The contract provides for a channel beginning near Atlantic wharf, to deep water opposite the Breakwater Light; to be some 400 feet in width and have at least 20 feet of water at mean low tide. This will give a depth of 28 or 29 feet at average high tide—sufficient for the largest steamer of the Allan line, and enable them to come in at once to their docks without difficulty.

—The brief session of the Governor and Council this week is mainly for the purpose of considering the propriety of extending the Executive pardon to Henrietta York, the young woman who was recently sentenced to nine months' imprisonment in the county jail, by the Superior Court at Portland, for the crime of innocently, as she supposed, attempting to conceal the shame brought upon her by her betrayer. Her case has elicited wide-spread sympathy, and a long petition comes from Portland, signed by members of the bar and others, praying for her pardon.

SPAIN DURING OUR CIVIL WAR. A statement made not long since by Mr. H. J. Perry, our Secretary of Legation in Spain, to the effect that the Government of Spain had resolved, at one period of our civil war, to commence war against the United States, has excited a good deal of attention and curiosity.

From information that has since reached us, we are inclined to believe the statement well founded. The determination of Spain was brought about by the intrigues of the Emperor of the French, and was based on a complaint that our Government had been guilty of a violation of neutral rights. The 9th of October, 1863, was fixed upon as the day for commencing hostilities, orders to that effect having already been sent out by the Spanish Government. But through the active efforts of liberal Spaniards, devoted friends of our cause as identical with their own, counter orders were sent out by the steamer from Cadiz of Sept. 15, 1863, and the whole affair was suppressed.

In the present condition of Spanish politics it would be highly imprudent to disclose the names of the persons who rendered us this service. They are all now, since the revolution, prominent public men, and their positions and influence would be seriously compromised by a premature disclosure of their agency in this transaction. But the time will probably come before long when their names can be made known and we can award them the acknowledgements their friendly services deserve.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM.

[illegible] remedy for Coughs, Colds, [illegible]

The attention of those afflicted with colds, coughs, and with any disease of the Lungs, is recommended to this valuable remedy. The season of the year has already come when, on account of the sudden changes in the weather, colds and coughs are easily taken, and if neglected may lead to disease of the lungs. What is needed under such circumstances, is a reliable remedy—speedy in affording relief, and [illegible] in arresting further progress of the disease.

To arrest the existing irritation of the air passages of the lungs speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough, is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated matter in the air passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.

Those suffering with cough and the first stage of lung disease, will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort.

For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its great efficiency beyond question. For the last ten years thousands have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use, while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids, simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

THE ORIGINAL MAUD MULLER.

A Whit Wittier than Whittier's.

BY [illegible]

Maud Muller, on a day in June,
Sold lager in her pa's saloon,

Singing, while taking her lager straight—
(The drink that don't intoxicate.)

But when she looked out on the sly,
And saw the Grecian bends go by,

Her sweet song failed on an upper note,
Caused by bronchitis in her throat;

And she wished a wish that she might own
Some better clothes than she had known.

Hans Switzel was a tutor, and
He tooted a horn in a German band.

And he owned of corner lots a lot,
Had a bank account, and the Lord knows what.

He stopped that day in that saloon,
And asked for beer while he hummed a tune.

Maud Muller went and bumped him up
An overflowing big quart cup,

And blushed as she gave it, looking down
On her bosom bare and her low-necked gown.

'Thank,' then said Hans, 'a better drink
Ain't made than lager beer, I think.'

Then he gave a wink, and hobbled out,
Like a man with an awful case of gout.

Maud Muller 'hove a sigh and said,
'I'd like that rich old cuss to wed.

Then all the dances I'd attend,
And swing a stunning Grecian bend.'

Hans Switzel, too, felt kind o' queer,
Tho' it might have come of drinking beer.

But I guess he was a pil-an-boney,
And, maudlin, on Miss Maud was spooney.

But he thought of his corner lots and gold,
And said, 'on Maud, I won't be sold.

She's pretty, plump and nice, I know,
But as for marrying her, 'not for Joe.'

But at rehearsal that afternoon,
Instead of playing the proper tune,

He played nothing else, would you believe,
But the serenade from 'Genevieve.'

And Maud behind the bar did muse
Till she got an awful case of blues.

Hans, in his shrewdness, wed a shrew—
A fearful scold and fifty-two.

[illegible]

The [illegible] Railroad, [illegible]

[illegible]

He is said to own one-fourth of the entire road. And yet, this man, who has chosen such a stormy career, and who, while yet under fifty has carried forward such a stupendous and historic work to completion, half considers his life a failure. It is the old, old story oft repeated, from the vanitas vanitatum of the wise king to the philosophic soliloquy of Hans Breitmann.

"Oh vat am all dis earthly pliss?
Oh vot is man's soocksess?
Oh vot ish various kinds of dings?
Und vot ish hobbiness?"

BRIGHTER PROSPECTS IN MISSISSIPPI. The following extract from a private letter from lower Mississippi gives a more favorable account of the crops, the labor, prospects and the condition of the people, than is usually received from that section:

The questions that you ask me can hardly be answered properly in a letter. So many things would need to be explained at length that we must reserve them till I see you; but I can easily give you a statement of how the labor question is treated in this vicinity and what have been the results thus far.

The cotton crop of 1866 and 1867 was so nearly a failure that the close of the latter season found all persons connected with its cultivation—the planter, the laborer and the commission merchant who had advanced to the planter—in a state of insolvency, and the year 1868 was begun amid a general state of gloom and depression. So few planters had paid their hands their wages for the year before, and there was such a general feeling of distrust, that by common consent the system of work for wages was abandoned and each one made the best bargain he could for a share of the crop, or a stipulated rent per acre to be paid in kind. The negroes, having had a share of the corn crop the year before, had now in most cases enough corn to feed themselves till new corn would be eatable, but they had nothing further and how to exist was the question. It occurred to me one day that something might be done in the purchase of rags and old iron, so one Thursday I sent word to several of the neighboring plantations that I would give meat for those articles, and the very next day I bought a ton of rags and several tons of old iron. This trade lasted for nearly two months till the country was pretty thoroughly cleaned up, but it furnished all the making of the crop. The amount that was brought in would be astonishing in any other country than one where such things were never brought and where a wasteful system had, before that, always been pursued. Old cisterns were emptied, yards were dug over and every place that promised a scrap of iron or a shred of fibre thoroughly ransacked. At daytime I have often found at my store door ten or twenty women, some of them had walked as far as fifteen miles, each one with a bundle of rags to be exchanged for meat.

Many of the planters had been obliged to sell part of their mules to pay their losses of the year before; many animals had died from overwork and short feed, so that the crop was planted under great disadvantage in this respect; yet all hands went to work with a will, and seemed determined to make the very best of the situation. The season fortunately was remarkable, the yield of cotton was extraordinary, and the price so high as to render all hands independent.

Of course the negro who had worked his patch without any animal was eager to buy one when he had the means, and the boats that came down from St. Louis last fall and winter were loaded down with horses and mules, generally old things "fitted up" for a market. Seventy dollars was the standard price for anything that could walk; nothing costing more could be sold. The traders soon learned their customers, and the market was as active as they could desire. Contrary to my expectation most of these old "crabs" are now doing good service, and very few of the darkies are regretting their purchases. With two exceptions all the places in this neighborhood are worked by the negro on his own account. Where the rent is specified it is eight or ten dollars an acre, or eighty or one hundred pounds of ginned cotton, the [illegible] every thing except the [illegible] an enormous rent, but [illegible] all favorable the tenant [illegible] bale of four hundred pounds to the acre [illegible] easily made in a good year [illegible] rents for the [illegible]

Where a share of the crop [illegible] of a fixed amount [illegible] receives from half to two thirds, depending upon whether he furnishes the mules and feeds them, the negroes feeding them [illegible] and replacing any animals that die during the season. Where the hands own the mules, they generally prefer a fixed rent, as they then have the control of their own crop, which is not usually the case when working on shares. But so much dissatisfaction was manifested last year where the planter shipped the crop, that this year most of the leases provide that the cotton should be divided at the gin.

The season this spring promises quite as well as the last [illegible] an overflow of the Mississippi [illegible] past and the country bids fair to have another prosperous year. The negroes are well clothed, have plenty of corn and generally enough meat; they own their mules and are not in debt and have little disposition to buy on credit [illegible] one would [illegible] have been opened in the country, and the demand for books and papers is greater than I have ever known it. On the whole I think the prospects are better than they have been [illegible]

BLACK SULTAN, by Gen. Knox, dam a fast trotting Morgan Messenger Mare, will be found at the stable of the subscriber, in Plymouth, Maine. Terms to [illegible]

SULTAN is eight years old this Spring, [illegible] black, stands 16 hands 2½ inches high, weighs 1,100 lbs. and is a horse of remarkable symmetry and immense power; is perfectly kind in, as well as out of harness. His speed has never been fully developed, having been trained only one week. He trotted the 21st October last on Bangor track a full mile in 2.40½, making the last quarter in 37 seconds. He was driven at that time on a track which was wet, and considered by good judges to be 5 seconds slow. His colts are of good size and very promising—$200 having been offered and refused for a 3 year old of his get—$170 for another.

I purchased this Stallion for the improvement of stock in this vicinity, and am induced to make a reduction in price for his services this season, to accommodate those who do not wish to pay such high prices.

Good pasturing furnished. Care will be taken to prevent escape or accident, but should they occur, they will be at the owner's risk.

ELLIS' IRON BITTERS.

Having used your Iron Bitters in my practice, I can testify to its superior tonic properties for invigorating the appetite and promoting digestion. I can unhesitatingly recommend it in cases of general debility and dyspepsia, and in conditions of the system requiring the use of a ferruginous tonic. Its agreeable flavor must recommend it to all.

Yours, Respectfully,

Kirkwood House,

Scarborough Beach, Maine.

OTIS KALER, Proprietor.

The Proprietor has the pleasure to announce that this place at one of the summer retreat will be in readiness for the reception of visitors on the first of June. The house was built last year, the furniture and all the appurtenances are new and of modern style. Stables, Billiard Tables, &c., are connected with the establishment.

The location is romantic and beautiful, being close by the sea-shore—a cottage by the sea. Ample facilities for sea bathing are afforded, as well as fine fishing sport from the rocks, saving the trouble of going from the shore. The distance from Portland is nine miles by rail to Oak Hill Station, from which coaches run hourly, to and from the house. The public may rest assured that they will find the KIRKWOOD a quiet, healthy, and well-ordered retreat.

This company offers the following advantages:

It is a National Company, chartered by special act of Congress, 1868.

It has a paid-up capital of $1,000,000.

It offers low rates of premium.

It furnishes larger insurance than other companies for the same money.

It is definite and certain in its terms.

It is a home company in every locality.

Its policies are exempt from attachment.

There are no unnecessary restrictions in the policies.

Every policy is non-forfeitable.

Policies may be taken which pay to the insured their full amount, and return all the premiums, so that the insurance costs only the interest on the annual payments.

Policies may be taken that will pay to the insured, after a certain number of years, during life, an annual income of one-tenth the amount named in the policy.

No extra rate is charged for risks upon the lives of females.

It insures, not to pay dividends to policy-holders, but at so low a cost that dividends will be impossible.
